TORIES BANKRUPT BRITAIN!

by Ian Anderson

THE TORIES HAVE bankrupted Britain and now the British people are having to pay through the nose to get the Government out of trouble. They raised the interest rates from 8% eighteen months ago to the current 15%. They have done this so that international speculators will put their money into this country. Other countries offer rates of only 5-10% so the Tories hope that such high interest rates will prove attractive to the speculators. The question then arises: why do we need this foreign money to come to this country?

The answer is simple. In the 1988 budget Mr Lawson gave huge tax cuts to rich people in Britain. They responded by buying Japanese cars, Italian washing machines, Korean hi-fi systems and a whole host of other foreign goods.

As a result huge sums of our money went abroad to pay for them leaving an enormous trade deficit with the rest of the world.

The Government are now trying to slow down the rate at which these items are bought and at the same time trying to attract money to come into this country to prevent this trade deficit causing a slump in the value of the pound.

RECESSION

It is possible, that his strategy will work - but at what cost to the British people? Even a staunch government supporter like the Diretor-General of the Confederation of British Industry, Mr John Banham has called the interest rate rise "wholly unnecessary", while several small business groups have warned of the outright danger of a fullscale recession.

The Tories are flirting with the danger of throwing millions back onto the dole queues and creating yet more misery for the British people.

They have been in power for more than ten years now. They cannot blame this potential disaster on anyone except themselves. Their management of the economy has devastated our manufacturing industry and has led to huge trade deficits. It is unbelievable that they have done all this at a time when Britain has been receiving a huge income from North Sea Oil. What would have happened if that oil had not existed? Britain now would be completely bankrupt.

The Government keeps talking about international factors but these don't seem to affect countries like Holland where they have interest rates at 8%, where inflation is 1% and where house mortgages can be obtained at a fixed rate of 8% for 25 years.

What is really sickening about this situation is that there is a solution to the problem and it is not that difficult for even Mrs Thatcher and her cronies to understand.

Inflation can be cured by controlling the issue of credit in this country. It is not necessary to raise interest rates to do this, you just make sure that banks are restricted in what they can lend (and they don't lend any money to Third World dictatorships).

Britain must put a nice, hefty import duty on all foreign goods coming into our country. If people still want to buy cars from abroad and thus help to put British workers out of a job then they can jolly well pay for it. The money thus raised on the import duty could be used to regenerate industries such as the motorcycle industry and the electronics industry.

EXCLUDED

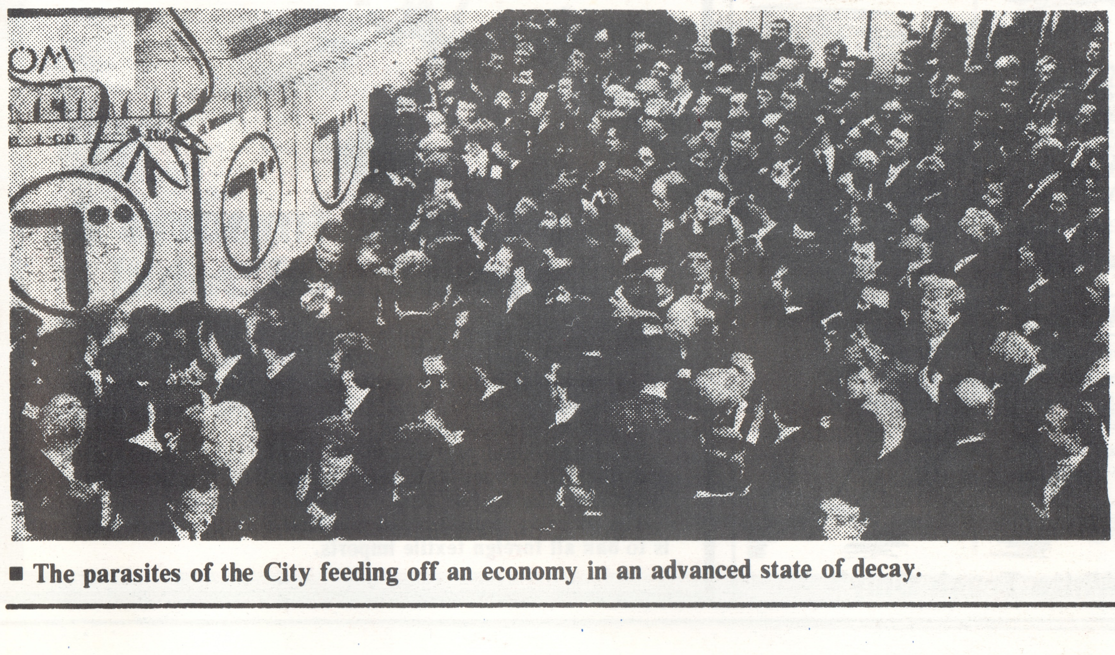
Of course these are just initial steps, eventually foreign goods would be largely excluded from Britain. Such an action would of course mean tearing up the Treaty of Rome which set up the Common Market, and it would also wreck the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT).

Other countries would retaliate - Japan would refuse to take any Austin-Rover cars, the French would refuse to import British beef, the Koreans would refuse to accept our apples. But as Britain buys many more manufactured items from abroad than we export we would be better off and anyway why should other countries buy goods from Britain? The French should buy French-made goods, the Japanese should buy Japanese-made goods, and so on. Economic self-sufficiency in an idea for export.

REAL WORK

Of course, some people would suffer. The whizz kids of the stock exchange would have a rough time (they might even have to get real jobs), the international financial houses would stop making fat fortunes (they might even go bust) and the multinational companies would have to split themselves up (they might even end up owned by their own workers).

The National Front, and the National Front alone have the policies to stop Britain becoming a pauper nation. They are policies that promote a real economy, an economy based on the result of real work, real goods and real produce. The British economy can only be returned into the hands of the British people when the monopoly world of the City has come crashing down and the parasites who have been living off the blood of the British people have been buried in the ruins!



■ The parasites of the City feeding off an economy in an advanced state of decay.

★ The average cost of a mortgage of £50,000 has risen from £390 in May 1988 to a staggering £535 a month today. Many young couples face the very real threat of being thrown out of their home because they cannot afford to keep up a place of their own.

★ Local councils will have to raise even more money through the Poll Tax next year just to service the huge debts, which all councils run, bringing fear to families, to the old and to the sick.

★ Small businesses are finding that the high cost of borrowing means that they cannot afford to invest in new plants and machinery and in some cases they are having to lay off workers.

★ Nigel Lawson resigned knowing that Britain could not get out of the mess he and the Tory party had got the country into without a complete change in policies.

The IRA's Ethnic Warning!

THE MURDER of Maheshkumar Islania, an Indian Corporal serving in the Royal Air Force in Germany by the IRA was a warning to all coloured immigrants serving in the British forces.

- Maheshkumar Islania: His death was a warning.

On every IRA march on the British Mainland representatives of Britain's Ethnic Minorities have been at the forefront, showing their unequivocal support for IRA terror tactics. Representatives from the Indian Workers Association have even travelled to Belfast to address Sinn Fein rallies while black solidarity groups have on many occasions invited IRA speakers to their meetings here in Britain.

Yet every Immigrant who joins the British Forces compromises that support for the IRA causing acute embarrassment to leading members of those communities.

Pinpointed

The Indian Corporal from Bombay was specifically pinpointed to be murdered. Such attacks are meticuously planned by the IRA, with weeks of painstaking surveillance and with the total agreement from the very top of the IRA command. There was no question of Corporal Islania just being in the wrong place at the wrong or just being any British Serviceman.

The brutal killing was a clear warning from the IRA and from the Immigrant Communities in Britain who support the IRA, to ethnic minorities serving in Britain's forces. If you compromise the wishes of your community you must accept the consequences.

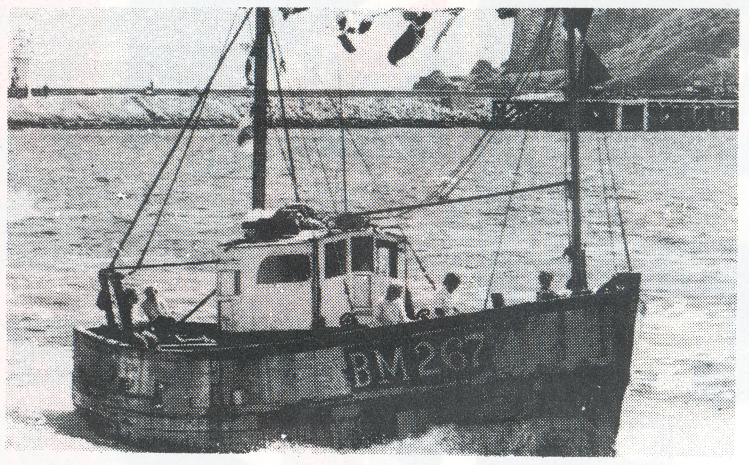
Race Gestapo at Work!

WHITE TUTORS who gave anti-racist lessons to Blacks have been sacked because they showed "a high degree of insensitivity".

The Race Relations Gestapo investigating Leicester City Council found that in many cases Black Workers were being let down and that there was a need for more White Staff to attend racism-awareness courses.

Leicester Councillor, West Indian Joe Allen, said he called the Race Relations Gestapo to investigate the council because Black workers felt powerless.

Gestapo Recommendations: Appoint a Senior Race Equality Officer at a big salary.



South-West Fishermen Face Spanish Invasion!

UP TO 100 Spanish fishing vessels are on their way to the South-West coast of Britain to plunder Britain's dwindling Hake stocks.

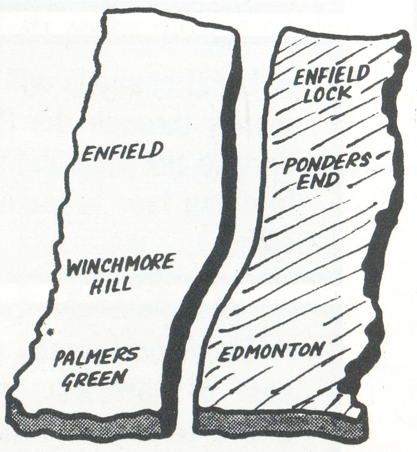
As many as 6,000 Spaniards on the Spanish coast are involved in a multi-million pound industry that is solely dependent on British stocks of fish.

When the Government passed the Merchant Shipping Act in April of this year it set up a register of vessels authorised to fish for which only British-owned, managed and controlled boats could qualify.

But last month the European Court of Justice ordered the British Goverment to allow fishing boats from other Common Market countries to operate in British waters.

The National Front says 'British waters for British fishermen".

ENFIELD - A Borough Divided



THE NORTH London borough of Enfield is divided right down the middle by Race as far as youngsters in the area are concerned.

The Whites have secured Enfield while the Blacks dominate Edmonton. There is no mixing. Violent battles have been reported by Borough Youth Officer Brian Clarkson who confirmed that Black groups have been trying to move in on Enfield.

Human Survival Threatened By Race-Mixing

by Steve Brady

RACE-MIXING threatens the survival of humanity by decreasing the genetic diversity on which that survival depends.

That was the message to be drawn from an address to the British Association for the Advancement of Science on September 13th by Professor Brian Clarke F.R.S., Professor of Genetics at Nottingham University and a leading expert on his subject.

Professor Clarke explained that the division of a species into genetically different and diverse populations - as humanity is into races - was vital to preventing diseases wiping out entire species. "The survivals of individuals depends on the existence of variation in the species" said Professor Clarke, "Being diverse and different is a good thing".

Professor Clarke did not actually say that preserving human racial differences was important to the survival of our species - scientists who say that kind of thing get sacked from their jobs and beaten up by Marxist stormtroopers. But he spelled it out for every other living thing - "We should not be using genetically uniform crops and domestic animals because they are more susceptible to disease and predation"

Already AIDS is spreading like wildfire through Negroes, but genetic diversity has protected other races to whom it is less of a threat. If we had all shared the vulnerable Negro genes through race-mixing, we would all be at risk.

So the message from the experts is clear. Race-mixing doesn't just threaten the survival of the race - it threatens the survival of humanity as a whole.

British And Proud Of It!

"NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY in today's world is a red herring" according to European Commission Vice-President and former Tory Home Secretary Sir Leon Brittan. "The same goes for national identity", the Tory Euro-boss told the Policy Studies Institute on October 16th.

Brittan went on to reject "the simplistic idea . . . that sovereignty is a single thing that you either have or don't have . . . that kind of sovereignty is long past".

Brittan himself has done his best to make his words come true, by killing off British national identity and national sovereignty. As Tory Home Secretary, he helped undermine our national identity by presiding over the jailing of newspaper editors Martin Wingfield and Joe Pearce for criticising his Government's racial policies. Policies aimed directly at sinking British national identity in a multiracial swamp.

- The man with no real name: Lithuanian Jew, 'Leon Brittan'.

As EEC Vice President, he is a key cog in the Brussels machine now grinding down British national sovereignty.

But our country's identity and sovereignty aren't dead yet.

Brittan may have problems about his national identity - he is a rootless cosmopolitan whose parents hail from Lithuania, and Leon Brittan isn't even his real name.

But millions of ordinary Britons are sure of their national identity - they're British and proud of it!

BOOK BURNERS!

62% OF Muslims living in Britain support the public burning of Salman Rushdie's book The Satanic Verses. 77% are in favour of street demonstrations to show their opposition to the book and more than 33% believe that Salman Rushdie should be murdered!

Tory Vultures Pick The Bones of Tienanmen Square

THE BLOOD was hardly dry on Tienanmen Square. The brave anti-Communists who were crushed under the Marxist tanks had scarcely been bulldozed into their secret mass graves across Red China, when the Capitalist vultures returned to gorge on the easy pickings offered by the Peking regimes endless supply of cheap slave labour.

While Mrs Thatcher was still spouting her endless flow of empty condemnations of the Communist butchers, her words were being belied by the deeds of the big business backers who pay for, own and control the Conservative Party.

Eight days after the Peking massacre, the 48 Group of British traders with China, representing 130 major companies eager to make money from China's misery, sent a telex to the Red regime's Council for the Promotion of International Trade, assuring the murdering old men that it would be "business as usual".

48 Group spokesman Percy Timberlake dismissed suggestions that the Chinese Reds might make propaganda use of this Capitalist support.

Two days later, extracts from his Group's telex featured prominently on the front page of the Communist Peking Peoples' Daily.

A month after the massacre the 48 Group businessmen announced that they were going ahead with their biggest ever mission to China which took place last month. The two-week trade mission was led by Sir Trevor Holdsworth, president of the Confederation of British Industry and as such a leading backer of Thatcher's Tory Party.

Capitalism sees lots of money to be made from bankrolling the butchers of Tienanmen Square. For all that philosophy cares about is making money. The Conservatives' highest dream is not freedom, but indulging in the greed that is the wellspring of Thatcherism. Above the ashes of China's dream of freedom rises not a phoenix but a Tory vulture.

- Business as usual: It takes more than a massacre to stop the vultures of Capitalism.

Ban Textile Imports & Save 33,000 Jobs!

THE MULTI-Fibre Textile Agreement which regulates the world's textile business is to finish in 1991. The end of the pact will mean the end of Britain's textile industry with more than 33,000 jobs lost in the North, East Midlands, North-West, Yorkshire, Scotland & Northern Ireland.

The Multi-Fibre pact was meant to give protection to Britain and other EEC countries against competition from goods made in sweat shops in the Far East - it failed miserably.

The only way to protect and revitalise Britain's textile industry is to ban all foreign textile imports.

Police Say 'FLAG' is OK!

THE POLICE in Exeter have given National Front papersellers the all clear despite a massive Labour Party campaign to get them banned from the City Centre and St James' Park.

Labour Councillors had claimed that the NF newspaper The FLAG broke the Race Relations Act and demanded the Police take action. Scotland Yard's legal department was called in to vet every single copy of the paper searching for breaches of the Race Act but all to no avail.

Superintendent John Lilley of Exeter Police issued the following statement "After taking legal advice the police have found that there is nothing in the National Front newspaper, The FLAG, which would support a charge".

• Luton NF Organiser, Simon Cannon, and Secretary, Jodie Marks.

Promoting the NF in Luton

LUTON NATIONAL Front have continued to make steady progress since their formation in the summer of this year.

October saw them doubling their order of The FLAG thanks mainly to an increasing door-to-door sales round. The branch also holds sales in Luton Town Centre.

Orwell and all that . . .

A ROW has broken out in West Bromwich in the West Midlands after a councillor claimed that Asian families were refusing to move to the Hateley Heath area of the borough because of the high support for the National Front there.

A former Liberal councillor for Hateley Heath, Robert White, is upset by the revelations and has called on anyone knowing of National Front members or supporters in the area to "to pass the information on to the appropriate authorities"! - Talk about shades of 1984.

Offensive Against the Front!

COUNCIL OFFICERS in Cleveland are calling for an offensive against the National Front after the Community Relations Committee meeting in October revealed that National Front members and supporters in the county had launched a recruitment campaign.

KING - No Shining White Knight!

• King: No saint

ONE OF Martin Luther King's closest allies has published a book that sheds new light on the life of the much-publicised Black Rights Activist.

In his book And the Walls Came Tumbling Down, Rev. Ralph David Abernathy claims King was continually unfaithful to his wife, enjoyed sex with up to three women at a time and that he gained his strength from his extra-marital affairs.

The Reason why . . .

EURO MP for East Lancashire, Michael Hindley has some announcements to make.

- His recent visit to Pakistan gave him the opportunity to visit the homeland of many of his constituents.
- He was very impressed with what he saw.
- He applauded the twinning of Rochdale with with Sahiwal, praising the imaginative link and Rochdale Council's gifts of medicine and wheel chairs.
- He said it was vital to lay the foundations for better aid to the Third World.

Why did Michael Hindley MEP say all this?

Because East Lancashire has one of the largest concentrations of Muslims in the European Community, and Mr Hindley wants to be re-elected at the next Euro-Election.

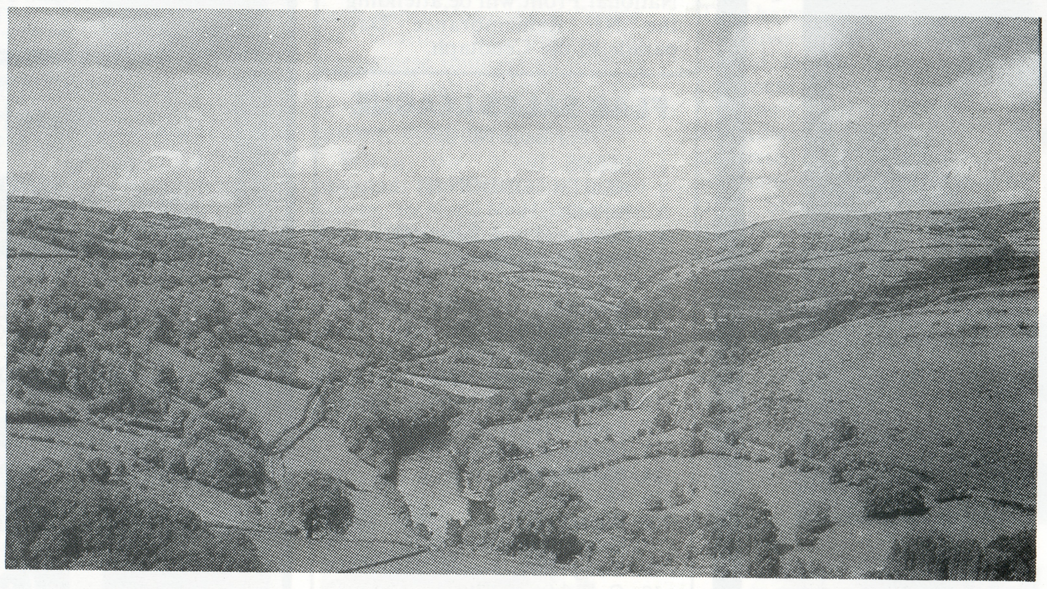
WATER SELL OFF AIDS POLLUTION!

STEVE BRADY, Honours Graduate in Zoology, an Associate of the Royal College of Science and a qualified Biology teacher looks at the threat pollution poses to Britain.

NF Policy to Combat Pollution



THE NATIONAL FRONT is totally committed to a clean and healthy environment. As our Policy Statement puts it: "The defence of the environment is central to our programme for national and racial survival". This is what we'd do to guard your water supply and our rivers.

Strict Limits on Discharges

- Set strict limits on effluent and sewage discharges. We would abolish "deemed consents" - levels set in the less-environmentally-aware 1950's and kept unchangeable by polluters holding them. The welfare of wildlife and fish will be taken fully into account in setting such limits.

Heavy Fines for Polluters

- Pollution fines would be raised to £20,000 for every day of violation plus imprisonment for those who try to flout the law persistently or seriously. Those who cause pollution will have to pay to clear it up.

Unlimited Powers for Inspectors

- Improve monitoring of potential polluters. We would keep the National Rivers Authority, but give it teeth. Its inspectors would have unlimited powers of inspection of waste discharge facilities without warning, and the power in serious cases to shut down offenders on the spot.

The Nation's Water is the State's responsibility

- Water privatisation would be reversed. The nation's water supply, like its power and no less than its military defence, must be the responsibility of the State, concerned with the welfare of the people and the land, not private individuals motivated by greed for money and profit. An independent Water Inspectorate would be set up to monitor and safeguard the purity of the nation's drinking water.

Elimination of Pesticides

- As part of our general agricultural policy, chemical-based "agri-business" will be discouraged in favour of environmentally cleaner organic farming, thus moving toward the elimination of pesticides and nitrate fertilizers in our water.

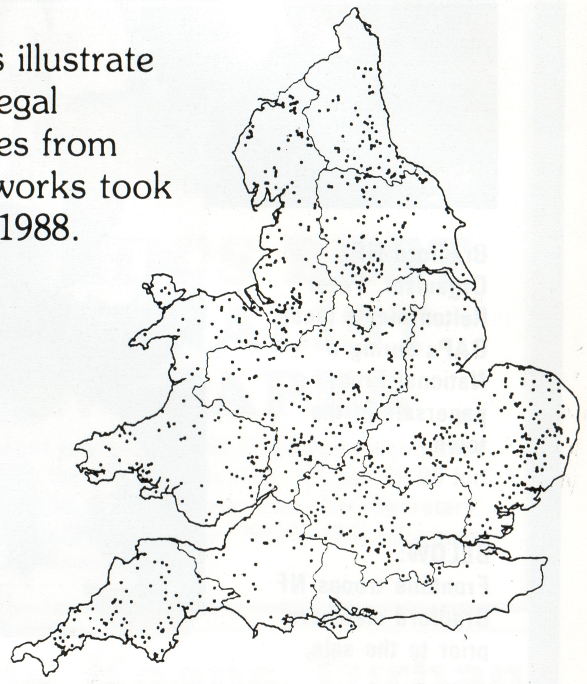
The dots illustrate where illegal discharges from sewage works took place in 1988.



A THIRD of your drinking water comes from Britain's rivers. Rivers now being polluted at a faster rate than at any time since records began. In the past two years, 453 miles - twice the length of the M1 - of top quality rivers have been ruined by pollution. 10% of our rivers are now so filthy no fish can live in them.

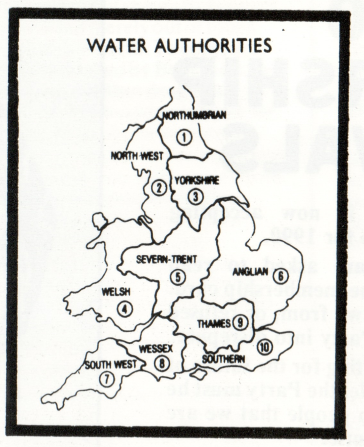
One in five British sewage plants is breaking the law by discharging substandard waste into our rivers. In 1988, there were 4,000 pollution incidents officially logged due to sewage discharges. The offenders are the Water Authorities, who are responsible for policing their own pollution.

As water privatisation approaches, things are getting worse. Britain's sewers are falling apart for lack of investment. 2,000 miles of sewers under our streets are officially classed as "seriously defective". 1,300 of England and Wales's 6,500 sewage works are so inadequate they break the law every day.

The Government, however, is keen to offer a profitable package to the privatisers and has got the water Authorities to keep down vitally-needed spending on sewage repairs in order to show juicy, tempting profits.

For example, Thames Water Authority made £211 million last year, whilst sixty of its clapped-out sewage works break the law every day. In order not to put off potential plutocratic investors with the prospect of having to spend money cleaning up these illegal, filthy sewage plants, the Government is to allow the offending plants to apply for "relaxed standards", so they can go on polluting away as before without fear that their new owners will be prosecuted. This will get the privatised owners off spending an estimated £1.6 billion needed to stave off the breakdown in our sewer system by 2000, £1 billion over the next seven years needed to clean bathing water and the £1.5 billion over 15 years needed to improve drinking water.

At the Royal Society earlier this year, it was revealed that the new privatised water companies are thinking of proposing that we accept that ordinary "general purpose" water from our taps will be unfit for human consumption and pay them extra to fit sophisticated filters to every kitchen tap to create safe drinking and cooking water.



Paying the Party to Pollute

AFTER SEWAGE from water boards and pesticides and fertilisers from EEC-subsidised farmers, the worst polluters of Britain's water supply are the kind of big corporations the Tories like most.

- Chemicals giant ICI, for example, broke pollution laws forty times last year - without being prosecuted.
- ICI's Rocksavage plant on Merseyside dumped double its permitted level of mercury - a deadly cumulative poison which in the 1960's caused one of the World's worst pollution disasters at Minamata, in Japan.
- Also on the Mersey, the ICI Castner Kellner plant was found to have ten effluent pipes all busily breaking the legal pollution
- Express Foods, the dairy subsidiary of the giant Grand Metropolitan group, have been convicted of over 25 pollution offences over the last six years. In 1987 the Express Food plant at Appleby, on the banks of the river Eden in Westmoreland, dumped a hundred gallons of deadly ammonia into the river. All plant and animal life died along a five mile stretch of river. The company received one of the highest fines on record for this act of environmental desecration - a paltry £25,000. To a company which counts its' profits in millions a year, this "fine" was a joke to be paid out of petty cash.
- Prosecution in 1986 for polluting the River Llynfi, near Bridgend in South Wales, with bleach didn't bother toilet makers British Tissues. Last year it polluted fifteen miles of the same river again, killing an estimated 30,000 trout and salmon.
- British Coal has been prosecuted 21 times in the last three years for serious pollution offences, but continues merrily breaking the law. Twenty-eight of its colliery outlets in Yorkshire broke their legal pollution limits 79 times between August 1987 and July 1988.
- Their subsidiary Coal Products, makers of Phurnacite, Sunbrite, Homefire and various smokeless fuels, has an evil record of dumping the muck the coking process keeps out of the air into the rivers instead.
- Its Chesterfield coking plant was over the legal limit on 12 out of the 17 times its effluent was tested by water board officials in 1988. In May 1988, its waste contained 15 times the legal limit of ammonia. It wasn't prosecuted once.
- Its Phurnacite plant in South Wales' Cynon Valley was prosecuted in December 1988 for dumping deadly coke liquor into the River Cynan. It was fined a swingeing £1,000. A month later it was back in the dock for discharging gas liquor, a delightfully lethal cocktail of phenols, thiocyanate and ammoniacal nitrogen. Fine - a stupendous £700! Peanuts, polluters just write off as "operating costs".

And still the poison spews forth into our rivers and water supply. Legal limits, often too high in the first place, are simply ignored by corporations who know they will rarely be prosecuted however much they break the law and have nothing to fear from the trifling fines imposed if they are.

Of course they have nothing to fear from the Tory Government, which big companies like them bought and paid for long ago. Clean rivers, healthy fish and safe tap water never gave a penny to Conservative Party funds. So for all their "green" posings, the Tories are the Party of the Polluters.

DANGER! Drinking Water

IT ISN'T just sewage that's getting into your water. A recent survey by Friends of the Earth reveals that millions of Britons drink water with levels of lead, aluminium or pesticides above the maximum admissible concentration set by European experts' agreement.

Lead and aluminium in drinking water cause brain damage in children and aluminium in particular is linked with Alzheimer's disease, which makes adults go prematurely senile.

Pesticides are of course poisonous in lots of ways, leading to infertility, cancer and deformed babies.

The use of poisonous nitrate fertilizers has increased tenfold since the war. While Britain stays in the Common Market, our farmers are paid to pollute by the Common Agriculatural Policy. Whilst industrialists are allowed to dump lead and aluminium into our air and water.

CONFERENCE REPORT

DIRECTORATE

CONSTITUTIONAL RESOLUTION: This Conference resolves that Section V(a) of the National Front Constitution be deleted and replaced with the following:-

"The National Directorate shall be made up of six people elected annually by postal ballot of all paid up members of the Party and the Regional Organisers of the Party to number not less than seven and not more than 18. The operation of the Postal Ballot will be as follows:

a) Invitations to submit nominations shall be published in Organisers' & Members' Bulletins.

b) Any paid-up member may stand.

c) Nominations must be in by the first Saturday in August.

d) The Candidate must be proposed and seconded.

e) Proposer and Seconder must be paid up members of the Party.

f) Ballot papers sent on the second Saturday in August.

g) Ballot papers must be returned by the first Friday in September.

h) The count will be conducted by officers of the Party not contesting the election.

i) The Candidate may attend the count."

Passed by Conference.

CHAIRMANSHIP

CONSTITUTIONAL RESOLUTION: This Conference resolves that the Chairman and Deputy Chairman of the Party shall be elected by postal ballot of all paid up members at the same time as the election for the six directly elected members of the Directorate.

Only members of the Directorate may stand.

Details for elections the same as above.

Rejected by Conference

NUCLEAR POWER

POLICY RESOLUTION: This Conference notes that the NF is committed to an independent nuclear deterrent, and that the materials for nuclear warheads can only be produced in nuclear power stations. We therefore confirm that we are committed to the maintenance of at least as many nuclear power stations as we need to supply our nuclear military needs.

Passed by Conference.

METHOD OF VOTING

POLICY RESOLUTION: This Conference resolves that the present system of electing Members of Parliament is unfair to all small parties and results in the effective disenfranchisement of millions of people at every General Election. The National Front therefore supports the following system of Proportional Representation which overcomes this problem yet at the same time retains the concept of having a local MP.

"Half of the total number of MPs will be elected in the same way as at present except the size of the constituencies will be doubled.

The other half of the total number of MPs will be elected by direct proportional representation with relation to votes cast for each particular political party. There will be no threshold.

Passed by Conference.

IMMIGRATION

POLICY RESOLUTION: This Conference resolves that policy be augmented as follows: 'In the interests of humane treatment of elderly people no longer to be part of the future ethnic composition of these islands, all persons of non-European ethnic origin otherwise subject to compulsory repatriation shall, if over sixty years old and continuously resident in Britain for the last five years, be permitted to remain in this country for the rest of their lives. Whether they elect to go or stay, they will continue to be paid their old age pensions at the same rate applicable to British citizens as long as they live. Elderly non-Europeans remaining in Britain will enjoy all the rights, such as access to National Health care, possessed by British citizens, except that they will cease to have the right to vote in elections or stand for public office.

ISLAMIC THREAT

POLICY RESOLUTION: This Conference regards International Islam as being as much a threat to the survival of our own and other races and nations as International Capitalism and Communism. In particular we view with abhorrence the attempts to introduce aspects of Islamic law into this country and we demand that the National Front campaigns against this spiritual import.

Administration Report with Tina Wingfield

Souvenir Brochure to Commemorate Remembrance Day

THE BUILDING Fund is now in a much healthier state thanks to consistent donations throughout October.

We have a friend, (yes we have them now and again), from California, Steve Justus, who has not only donated £80.00 to the Building Fund but has become a Friend of the Front for £10.00 a month. Mr Justus is also supporting the NF publications The FLAG and Vanguard.

Nearer home a loyal supporter, Stephen Ebbs has given £100 to the Building Fund and another, Mrs Langley from South London £164. Many thanks to all those who have generously supported the Fund with special mentions to S. Chaney £50, F. Baker £30, and G. Whincup £20.

For Remembrance Day the Administration Department is producing a 16-page programme. It will cover the order of the day's events, a history of our Remembrance Day parades, plus many photos and items of interest. It will be selling for 75p on the day of the parade and will be available to those who don't attend for £1.00 (inc postage) from The Secretary, P.O.Box 230, Worthing, Sussex BN14 8EG.

A Members' Bulletin, the fourth of the year, was sent out to all NF members during the last week in October. The initial response from this has been good with plenty of renewals of membership for 1990 arriving at the office.

Finally I will never give an Administration Report without mentioning our Friends of the Front. The people who support us each month and every month by donating a minimum of £5.00 to the NF's central administration fund will never ever know what a vital role they play. Whatever the weather, the political climate, or what particular storm is blowing those Friends of the Front donations keep popping through the letterbox. It is those regular donations that are responsible for just about everything the NF Administration Dept does. Many, many thanks.

FIGHTING BACK AGAINST THE SMEARS

JIM ARCHER of St Albans National Front is now in charge of our Media Monitoring Unit.

The Media Monitoring Unit is responsible for answering the smears made against us in the press or on television and radio. Firstly letters of complaint are sent to the offending newspaper or television company and if no apology is forthcoming then the matter is taken up with either the Press Council or the Broadcasting Complaints Commission.

Jim Archer has started his new job on a high note with a victory over The Sunday Times who had tried to associate the National Front with racial attacks. Jim is now pursuing a complaint against The Mail on Sunday who, in a despicable article, tried to smear the NF with involvement in football violence in Poland.

NF Comes of Age!

THE NATIONAL FRONT has come of age as of this year's Annual Conference. For the first time in the history of the Party there has been a disagreement over policy that hasn't resulted in the Party being thrown into chaos or facing splits and divisions.

I am of course talking about the resolution concerning Black OAPs being allowed to stay in Britain. The whys and wherefores of that vote are not important. What is important is that those who disagreed with Conference did not storm out, leave the Party or go and join another party. They accepted the decision of Conference but made it known that they will be back next year arguing for the policy to be changed.

To the public it may seem strange that this editorial bothers to commend what is the norm in all the other political parties. All members of all parties have to accept policies promoted by their party that they don't totally agree with. It would be a very clone-like party if everyone had exactly the same views.

But for the National Front this hasn't been the case. In the past when members have disagreed with something the response has been - "Right,I'm off!" at best or the launch of a vicious factional war at worst. Because the National Front has always been a small and tightly knit party those actions have had a devasting effect.

The mature character of the National Front membership today has been shown by the way they have accepted Conference decisions and got on with their work. There has been much debate in branches throughout the country over the change in the NF's policy with regard to Black OAPs and many people expressed their views on the matter. Those who have voiced their opposition to the policy change have made it clear that the Annual Conference 1990 will be the place for their battle, convinced that in 12 months time they will be able to return the National Front's immigration policy to the status quo.

This is the way it must be for the National Front to succeed in the British political arena. Conference must be our God. The others can have their leaders and their elite cadres but the National Front must be bound by its Conference. The will of the membership must at all times guide the National Front.

The media, the establishment and our political opponents have watched the National Front very closely over the last 6 weeks. Don't be fooled by the lack of column inches published about the National Front, journalists have been on to our press office daily monitoring the situation in the Party waiting for something to happen. The agents of the establishment have all been busy collating their imformation just biding their time till the storm breaks.

You see the NF's policy change on Black OAPs is dynamite. Not only for the fact that it wipes out at a stroke the image that the media have drawn-up for the Front over the last 20 years but also for the fact that such a change has been acepted by the membership without major upheavals.

The maturity of the National Front has showed itself beyond doubt, and that is something that will be sending shivers through those corridors of the establishment where three years ago they must have been convinced that the National Front was finished.

Isn't our party full of surprises!

Now Russia Faces A Third World Invasion

VIETNAMESE IMMIGRANTS clashed with Moscow police in three days of race riots in October. According to the city's daily paper Mocovskaya Pravda, the violence was started by Vietnamese immigrants pushing in front of native Russians in one of the city's frequent shopping queues, this time for shampoo.

When the local people objected, the Vietnamese pulled knives, stabbing two policemen who intervened. A Vietnamese mob then attached the local police station and five more policemen were hurt before the mob was driven off. The Vietnamese then barricaded themselves in their hostels, hurling bottles and stones at police in full riot gear.

There are over ten thousand Vietnamese immigrants in Moscow alone, 1,600 of them working in the giant Zil car plant. They have turned the Orokhovo-Borisovo area of the Russian capital, largely made up of new tenement blocks resembling London's North Peckham or Broadwater Farm, into a depressed Asiatic ghetto in which Russians dare not venture after dark. Similar Asian Immigrant ghettoes exist in a number of Russian cities.

Now that Communism is collapsing there is a grave danger that glasnost will open up the Eastern Bloc to even more Black and Asian Immigrants, unless local patriots see the danger and act in time.

Canada Keeps Turban on Sikh Problem

A MAJOR row has broken out over Canadian Government plans to recruit more Sikhs to the Mounties by letting them wear turbans on parade instead of the traditional ranger hat. Currently there are only five Sikhs in the 12,194-strong Royal Canadian Mounted Police. There are over 250,000 Sikhs in Canada.

But more than 90,000 Canadians have signed a petition that the ruling to allow turbans be scrapped. Presenting the petition, M.P. for Calgary Mrs. Barbara Sparrow explained why they were doing it, "Canada has so little heritage left to protect". The petition has got the Mountie turban row put before Parliament, which is to decide the issue itself now. Meanwhile Sikh community leader Kalvinder Singh snarled that preserving the Mounties' traditional uniform was "an excuse for racism".

Ironically, the Mounties are taking a close interest in turbans already. Looking under them for the Canadian-based Sikhs who are wanted for planting a bomb on an Air India jumbo jet two years ago, resulting in the death of 216 people.

These terrorists are members of fanatical Sikh sects widely supported among the very community in Canada whose ranks the Mounties will be recruited.

The Ted Budden Column

Ted Budden was a founder member of the National Front. In his column he gives his view of the world. His comments and observations do not necessarily reflect National Front policy.

Alas Poor Nigel

IT IS a proud moment for parents when they see the dawning of intelligence in their offspring; when the little perishers at last demonstrate their ability to put two and two together.

I rather felt that way when Nigel Lawson was asked whether the brief collapse in share prices in New York and London heralded an economic depression. He replied; "The fall in share prices has no effect on the real economy. We learned that after the Stock Market collapse in 1987".

"By God", I thought, "He's got it! It's taken a long time but at long last he's got it."

For it is one of the most enduring myths of this century, assiduously fostered by stockbrokers and other superfluous folk, that the Stock Market is the mainspring of the economy. Ask what was the cause of the great depression in the thirties and most people will reply; "The Wall Street crash of 1929". This demonstrates conclusively that you can fool most of the people all of the time.

In fact the Wall Street crash was merely a symptom of economic malaise not the cause of it. The cause of the slump was the invention of vast sums of new money by the banks - the unrestricted issue of credit to all and sundry, most of it used to buy crazily overpriced shares on the New York Stock Market. Share prices rocketed. Everyone was making money out of thin air.

But of course everyone can't make money out of thin air. There was bound to be the inevitable day of reckoning and when it came, chaos ensued.

There was a panic-stricken run on the banks by depositors who no longer trusted them. Banks, desperate for cash, called in their loans; not only from Stock market gamblers who'd already lost the money anyway, but from worthy productive enterprises. Banks went bust. Businesses ran out of money and out of customers. Those who had money hoarded it. There was a near total lack of liquidity and confidence in the economy. That was the cause of the depression.

For the Stock Exchange is, in fact, merely just another betting shop. Those people who deal in shares are simply punters shading the odds - betting that the return on shares will be better than that gained by depositing the money in banks or government loan stock.

As for stockbrokers; they are merely overpaid bookmaker's clerks. They make their money shuffling share certificates in the manner of bookie's clerks shuffling betting slips.

Now I've nothing against betting shops. I've spent a fair amount of time in them and made many a wager. They fulfil a function; satisfy a human need.

However, I've never at any time believed that the economy would collapse if the boys in the betting shop had a bad day.

We in the National Front have always known this. Yet it was, apparently, only in 1987; after many years as a financial journalist and four years as Chancellor of the Exchequer, that it dawned on Nigel Lawson.

Is this because we are so brilliant (as, of course, we are) or that the others are so stupid?

Alas, poor Nigel! Just as he was on the brink of discovery, Madam Thatcher and her flunkeys pushed him into the abyss.

At least he won't suffer too much. Many juicy directorships await him and he will become a figure of great eminence among the boys in the betting shop.

You can bet that he will have made his millions long before any one of us who really know the score is invited to become Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Backs to the Wall

THERE ARE occasions in political history when an event of earth-shaking significance occurs that, at the time, passes almost unnoticed.

Such an occasion was the Liberal conference held recently in Brighton. In a move that will irrevocably alter the political map, the Liberals decided to embrace homosexuals.

"So what's new?", I hear you ask. Well, what's new is that this is not the usual expression of the sexual ambivlence for which the Liberals are justly famed but a naked bid for power by the back door.

The conference decided that the age of consent for homosexual acts should be drastically reduced; presumably because the present one unfairly hindered the activities of the party's paederasts, and to repeal the law banning the promotion of homosexuality in schools; this being seen as a plot to hinder recruitment to the Liberals.

Such was the enthusiasm for the motion that it was not put to a ballot nor even to a card vote - it was carried overwhelmingly on a show of limp wrists.

The Liberals, or the Liberal Democrats as they now laughingly call themselves, have been having a thin time just lately, what with declining membership and poor election results, and they see this move as an enormous boost to their prospects.

Brighton and Hove Liberals, in fact, are so excited by this that they have urged all homosexuals to join them and they claim that if they get their full queer quota it will mean at least 25,000 new recruits from the Brighton area alone - a figure that made my mind boggle and, indeed, the rest of me boggle too.

It was once alleged that the Liberals held their annual conference in a telephone box. So far have they progressed that it is now reliably rumoured that they have booked all the public lavatories in Brighton for their next one; all linked and wired for sound. At least they'll be guaranteed a full house for a change.

So tremble Thatcher! Quail Kinnock! The Liberals are on the march!

See the serried ranks of this vast army as they rally behind butch commando Paddy. See them as they mince in step to the stirring notes of the Gay Gordons; defiantly shouting their battlecry; "Poofters of the world unite; you have nothing to lose but your trews!"

But I shan't see it. I shall emigrate to some place of comparative normality - like San Francisco!

Isolated

MANY OBSERVERS see the proposal to seal off the entrance to Downing Street with wrought iron gates as further evidence of Madam Thatcher's increasing isolation from the general public. Others, of course, feel that she hasn't been isolated half enough.

Evidence of this isolation, not only from the general public but reality itself, was provided during her recent visit to Japan.

There she observed, correctly, that Japanese manufacturers were subsidising their exports by charging Jap consumers more for their goods than they charged in any other part of the world. She further suggested, correctly, that Japanese consumers would get a better deal if there was more competition.

She then cited as examples of such competition those thrusting, cut-throat, entrepeneurial buccaneers - wait for it - Marks and Spencers, Sainsburys, Tesco and Boots.

I suggest that if she really believes that she is not merely out of touch but out of this world. To compare the prices charged by Boots and, say, Superdrug, another drug store chain, and you would only need one price list. As for those high street giants Tesco and Sainsburys, locked in a life or death struggle; apart from the occasional inexpensive loss leader, one might assume that a great deal of their thrusting entrepeneural time was spent borrowing each other's price tags. As for Marks and Spencers; I really don't know. Since they introduced in-house credit cards I just can't afford to shop there any more.

This is not to suggest that these companies are, like the Japanese, operating a cartel. I mean, if they were they wouldn't be receiving the Thatcher Award for Entrepeneurial Excellence. Would they?

If Madam Thatcher really believes what she says I can only suppose that those gates across Downing Street are being erected by some humanitarian organisation to protect the general public from the Madwoman of Downing Street.

She should certainly be behind bars of some kind - preferably closely attended by large men in white coats.

Just a Gesture

JUST A small item in a newspaper. Just a small amount of money. The British Government is to give half a million pounds to a fund set up to improve housing for Blacks in S.Africa.

Now it just so happens that Blacks in S.Africa have the best housing of Blacks anywhere in Africa. They earn better wages than blacks anywhere else in Africa. They own more private cars than Blacks elsewhere in Africa or, for that matter, Russians. They have better health care than Blacks elsewhere.

And who is to provide the money for this little gesture. Why, the British taxpayer. So let us consider some of those taxpayers.

Let us consider the case of a single lady who has just retired and has a state pension plus a small works pension from her previous employment which brings her total income to £60 per week. From this magnificent sum she is obliged to pay £1.75 per week in income tax. Not a lot of money - just a hell of a lot to someone with a total income of £60. That lady is one of many.

It is the policy of every civilised country that taxes should be levied according to ability to pay. Britain is not numbered among those civilised countries. Here we screw money from people who cannot afford to pay.

After his wild spree of tax cuts for his fat friends, our late Chancellor of the Exchequer, Nigel Lawson, was asked why he had not raised the tax threshold so that poor people would not have to pay tax on breadline incomes. He replied; "The country simply couldn't afford it".

The country can, however, afford to give money to improve housing for Blacks in S.Africa by taxing people who live in worse accommodation than Blacks in S.Africa and who cannot afford better accommodation because they are taxed to improve Black Housing in S.Africa.

It's just a small sum of money but one hell of a big principle involved. That, I am sure, will cut no ice with people who have demonstrated over and over again that they are utterly, completely, totally, unprincipled.

All is Revealed

COMMENTING ON the claim by the Engineering Unions for a 35 hour week, Madam Thatcher denounced it, naturally, as "unjustified"; declaring, with that air of selfless martyrdom that has raised hackles throughout the civilised world, "Some of us work 35 hours in two days".

It is not quite clear if she meant by this that she and her ministers work only two days a week or whether they work seventeen and a half hours per day seven days a week.

In the first instance the old saying "The Devil finds work for idle hands" springs to mind; in the second "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy" seems appropriate.

Either explanation provides a convincing reason for her Government's lousy performance.

Is that what she was trying to tell us?

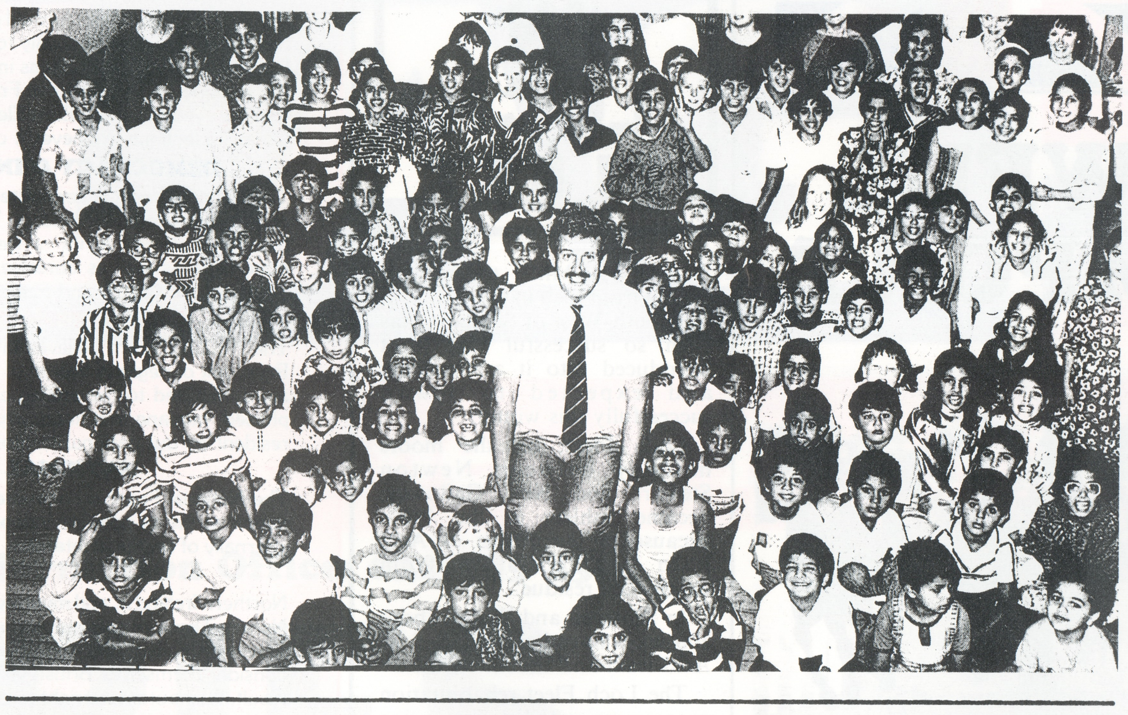
Black OAP Debate Fills the Postbag

Do they GO or do they STAY? - NF members have their say!



This is the THREAT

I don't know why people at the NF Conference made such a fuss about the Black OAP's policy. The real threat to our Race & Nation comes from Asian youngsters who are already a majority in schools here in the North West. What happens when they have families?.

Decadence the problem

I WONDER how many others feel the same bewilderment as I do when comtemplating our Party's new policy to make repatriation more palatable to the British people by giving elderly immigrants the opportunity to stay.

The reason we are not in power is not because our immigration policy is unpalatable, but because of the materialism and decadence of the voters.

This material prosperity, of course, is not based on an economic strength, but on credit cards and government income from privatisation and the squandering of North Sea oil.

So an effective mass party will only be created when the mass of the electorate have been shaken out of their smugness by a succession of unpleasant crisis. For example, when North Sea oil has gone and there are no longer any State industries to flog; when race riots are a daily occurrence; and when violent crime becomes intolerable.

When the anarchy comes, as come it will, the National Front will be remembered as the Party which all along preached the dangers of supporting a corrupt, alien system.

With mass support will come a demand for the repatriation of all immigrants - and quickly. In fact, the State will have to protect deportees from attacks by impatient Britons, never mind allowing thousands to stay!

Andrew Lightfoot,

East Riding.

WITHOUT WARNING

I AGREE with the NF's move to give a more human face to our repatriation policy but I voted against it at the AGM in protest at the way the resolution was put forward to the membership.

You only had to look at the concerned faces of the delegates at the Conference, who without warning had found themselves voting on such an important issue, to see that no one other than those promoting the change of policy knew that it was taking place.

It must be put before the membership again with those who oppose it given the chance to fully prepare their case.

IT IS said that a picture says a thousand words so why on earth doesn't The FLAG use photographs more to accompany its reports.

The NF's original idea of bombing the IRA march through North London on 12th August with leaflets from a railway bridge should have warranted more space in your paper especially as it got national coverage in the News of the World.

Marvellous Nonsense

What a marvellous bit of nonsense introduced at the NF's Conference under the guise of making the repatriation of immigrants more acceptable to the British voter.

Does the NF really think that when they get to power there will be any coloured immigrants left in Britain? I can assure you that the immigrants will be queuing at the airports and docks to go home long before there is a majority of National Front MPs at Westminster.

As soon as the writing is on the wall and the message is clear that the British people have had enough of the multi-racial experiment Britain's immigrants will know it is time to go

MUSIC REVIEW with Bob Nash

TULL ON THE ROAD

HOT ON the heels of their success this year as the best Heavy Rock/Heavy Metal band according to an American poll; Jethro Tull has just completed a very successful British Tour.

On 25th September, when Tull played the Birmingham N.E.C. Music Arena, a company of NF members from both London and Birmingham were present to watch this fine British band live in this spacious Birmingham arena.

Gusto & Power

Opening proceedings with an impressive version of 'Big Riff and Mando', from the bands new album 'Rock Island', Ian Anderson and friends showed clearly why they continue to be one of the best Heavy Rock bands around; playing with even more gusto and power than when I had seen them at the Wembley Arena in 1988.

Mixing old and new material, Jethro Tull satisfied the wishes of both old and new fans alike. New songs such as 'Rock Island', 'Kissing Willie', and 'The Whalers Dues', were aired to an enthusiastic audience, as were older compositions like the eerie and effective 'Jack O'Lynn' the perennial 'Bouree' and classics such as 'My God', 'Aqualung' and 'Locomotive Breach'.

Breathtaking

The musicianship of guitarist Martin Barre, Dave Pegg on bass and violin and drummer Doane Perry; together with the keyboards of Martin Alcock was breathtaking and faultless. Instrumental versions of 'Black Satin Dancer' and 'Warchild', were welcome additions to the evenings programme, as was Dave Pegg's spot. Dave who is also one of the leading lights behind Fairport Convention, provided, with other members of Jethro Tull, a brief selection of traditional folk music which proved very entertaining.

The Monday evening concert was yet another triumph for Tull, and all those people who have stood by them. The band continue to produce a unique style of music, a music with great staying power that will sustain them and their growing audience for many years to come.

It Wasn't That Bad!

I THOROUGHLY enjoyed the NF Social Club holiday on Ibiza in September and it was unfair to say it was a disaster in the October issue of The FLAG.

It's true the weather was awful but it takes more than a bit of rain and 'Spanish Tummy' to knock out true Brits on holiday.

ANOTHER AWFUL AMERICAN IMPORT

In the Footsteps of the Hamburger

BRITAIN HAS been saddled with another awful American import in the form of all-weather track horse-racing. The first week in November saw this epitomy of mediocrity take place at Lingfield and Southwell.

Just as with MacDonalds, Grid Iron Football, the Harlem Globetrotters and Cruise Missiles Britain finds itself landed with another totally unwanted import that is thoroughly alien to everything British.

ATMOSPHERE

Horse-racing is the Sport of Kings. Throughout the year Flat and National Hunt meetings at courses all over Britain bear witness to that fact. Many facets make it the Sport of Kings. The different courses, the different goings, the delightful surroundings, they are all part of the atmosphere of the racing game.

All-weather track horse racing on artificial going, destroys everything that is fundamental to the sport in Britain. Racing becomes a bland and repetitious catalogue of events solely as a betting medium for the public.

• Will horse racing become as bland and repetitious as greyhound racing?

And of course that's what this change is all about. The Big Four Bookmakers don't like it when the weather interferes with their business. Not a racing day must go by without them plying their trade and over the years British winters have taken their toll of race meetings. But now with the all weather tracks nothing will stop them.

These leeches who take so much out of horse racing and put so little back are now taking the first steps towards the destruction of the Sport of Kings.

TROUT BACK IN LOCH FLEET

A PROGRAMME to revive a barren trout loch in Galloway, in the South-West of Scotland, has been so successful that trout introduced into it are thriving and expected to spawn successfully this winter.

Loch Fleet, on the moors halfway between Newton Stewart and New Galloway, became fishless in the 1960s because of the effects of Acid Rain and pollution from aluminium residue.

In Scotland and Wales, about 100 lakes have been affected by Acid Rain and become fishless.

The Loch Fleet rehabilitation programme entailed lime being spread over 300 acres of surrounding forest and moorland to improve the quality of water flowing into the 40 acre loch. The treatment has proved successful but it is not known how long it will last.

Britain's lakes will only fully recover if sulphur emissions from our power stations are stopped. Catchment liming is only the treatment not the remedy.

Just the Ticket Saves the Day!

WE'RE ON a winning streak. For the second month running FLAG punters have shown a profit by following the horses of Tiverton trainer John Baker.

Just when it looked as though we would make a loss, up popped Just The Ticket at 14-1 and hey presto we are in funds again.

Keep taking the medicine is our advice and follow John Baker's horses in November. Others to watch are Josh Gifford's young chaser Abbreviation and Eric Alston's Sunset Reins Free.

Much Rests on the Shoulders of Adam Fogerty

IT IS a welcome change for the British boxing public to hear some good news about British heavyweight boxers instead of the endless superlatives used to described the numerous West Indian fighters boxing under the British flag of convenience.

Halifax heavyweight Adam Fogerty is taking on the mantle of the great white hope of British boxing. Although the 20 year-old has had only 10 fights, his latest against American, Tim Morrison, who he knocked out in two rounds, was his most impressive and there is great optimism for the future.

The boxer certainly won't lack in the managerial department with Terry Lawless in charge. Lawless is the man who took the awkward Frank Bruno to a world title challenge and looks like doing the same with the cumbersome Gary Mason.

Fogerty and Lawless together could put the pride back in to British boxing.

Merger Plans Fall Through

BARROW Association Football Club was founded in 1901. In 1921 they joined League Division 3 (North). In 1972 after being forced to apply for re-election for the 11th time they lost their league status.

After 17 years in the football wilderness Barrow AFC have clawed their way back to the perimeter of the Football League. Last year they won the HFS League and were promoted to the GM Conference League just one step away from the Division 4.

This season 'The FLAG' is following the progress of Barrow AFC hoping to see them make a nonsense of the old sporting adage "They never come back".

■ Barrow Association Football Club: The line up for the 1989-90 season.

FINANCIAL PROBLEMS have accompanied Barrow Football Club throughout its history. For a club, that spent all but three years of its 51 year league membership in the lowest league division possible, it is hardly surprising.

This year looked as though it would be different. The club announced an ambitious £1.5 million plan to redevelop the Holker Street ground by sharing it with the town's rugby league club. The improvements to be paid for by the sale of the Craven Park Rugby Stadium.

However after a number of problems and not least the state of the finance and property markets the scheme has fallen through.

Barrow moved to their present Holker Street Ground in 1909. In their first match there they beat Eccles Borough in a Lancashire Combination Div II game 5-2 in front of a 2,500 crowd. The record attendance at the ground was 16,874 in January 1954 for the visit of Swansea City in the 3rd Round of the F.A. Cup.

Holker Street is Barrow Football Club, although the upkeep of the ground has proved a financial bottomless pit, it has also provided the springboard from which Barrow have bounced back. Commitment to the ground and all that goes with it by those dedicated few who kept Barrow alive during the 'Dark Years' is the reason that the Cumbrian Club is still in existence.

On the football front there is a ripple of optimism in the club. Unbeaten in the Conference League since 9th September, Barrow have crept up to 11th place at the time of going to press. Disappointment at an early exit from the F.A. Cup has been forgotten as the dream of a return to the Fourth Division in 1990 is still lingers on.

THE NATIONAL FRONT

A political party that stands up for Britain and the British people.

The National Front was formed on 7th February 1967 and since that day has campaigned continuously to defend the rights of the British people. Despite many ups and downs in its fortunes and non-stop attacks from our opponents, the National Front today still stands firm behind those beliefs, contesting, Euro-Elections, Parliamentary Elections and Council Elections whenever it can.

DEMOCRACY & INDIVIDUAL FREEDOM

The National Front is committed to the preservation and enhancement of Parliamentary democracy. We are committed to the defence of traditional British rights of freedom of speech and opinion for our opponents as well as ourselves. The National Front would enshrine rights of free speech and free expression of opinion in a Bill of Rights.

RACE, NATIONALITY & CITIZENSHIP

The National Front believes in a positive creed of love of Nation and Race, not of negative hatred of coloured immigrants as individuals. We are committed to the ending of all non-White immigration and to the phased, humane and financially-assisted repatriation of all non-Whites resident on our national territory.

NATIONAL SOVEREIGNTY

The National Front is committed to Britain becoming a fully sovereign nation as far as possible independent externally of other nations and internally of sectional interests.

NORTHERN IRELAND

Northern Ireland is, and must always remain an integral part of the British Nation. Those people currently resident in Northern Ireland who refuse to renounce allegiance to an independent Irish state and therefore do not consider themselves British will lose their British Citizenship and, as a result, their automatic right to live on British soil, vote in British elections and enjoy British social services. This would enable all IRA activists and supporters to be removed permanently from the UK.

DEFENCE

The National Front is resolved that Britain must possess an independent nuclear deterrent, one entirely produced, maintained and controlled from within Britain. Our conventional armed forces must be expanded and modernised. All foreign bases would be removed from British soil.

OWNERSHIP OF INDUSTRY

The National Front believes in the widespread private ownership of industry commerce and agriculture. We envisage an economy comprised of small and medium-sized businesses and farms owned by individuals and partnerships; enterprises that are necessarily large which are owned and controlled by employee shareholders, and producers' co-operatives in which the profits would be distributed among the employees. Nationalised industries would exist in those areas of the economy in which the necessary monopoly position, level of fixed costs or importance to national security or the economy, made public ownership necessary or desirable.

CRIME & POLICING

We recognise that crime can only be contained by providing adequate deterrents, rather than searching for alleged 'social causes'. Therefore we would restore capital punishment for the categories of murder, treason, large-scale drug trafficking and involvement in terrorist offences.

HEALTH & WELFARE

The National Front recognises that the State has an obligation to ensure that those of its nationals who cannot be expected to support themselves should enjoy a standard of living that is adequate to cover their reasonable material and social needs. We believe that the National Health Service must be maintained at whatever level is necessary to ensure the health and well-being of the Nation.

EDUCATION

The National Front believes that there must be a national common core curriculum in primary eductaion to ensure that the minimum standards of literacy and numeracy are achieved by all children. Secondary education must place a strong emphasis on technology and craftsmanship.

THE ENVIRONMENT

The defence of the environment is central to the National Front's programme for National and Racial survival. We seek an economy and a way of life which will respect and sustain the environment rather than disregarding and exploiting it.

If you agree with National Front thinking on these issues of the day then join our Party and take your place alongside other Britons who have joined our crusade to win back our country!
